

UNIVERSITY OF ROCHESTER (NY). The Department of Chemistry invites applications for 1 position in the area of inorganic chemistry, broadly defined, and 1 position in the area of theoretical chemistry, broadly defined. This search is primarily for candidates at the junior level, but exceptional senior candidates can also be considered. Candidates are expected to establish an outstanding program of original research and to be effective teachers at the graduate and undergraduate levels. Application materials are to be submitted online at <https://www.rochester.edu/fort/chm/>. Materials to be submitted must include a curriculum vitae indicating graduate and postdoctoral advisors, a statement of research plans and a statement of teaching interests. Junior candidates will also enter the names and email addresses of three references. The references will be notified by email with instructions for online submission of letters. The department will solicit letters for senior candidates. Review of complete applications will begin on October 15, 2014. Questions may be sent to facrec@chem.rochester.edu. The University of Rochester has a strong commitment to diversity and actively encourages applications from groups underrepresented in higher education. The University is an Equal Opportunity Employer.