LESTER KISSEL GRANTS IN PRACTICAL ETHICS AVAILABLE FOR UNDERGRADUATES

Harvard College undergraduate students are eligible to apply for a Lester Kissel Grant in Practical Ethics to support research and writing that makes contributions to the understanding of practical ethics. A number of grants, each up to $3,000, will be awarded on a competitive basis for projects to be conducted during the summer of 2007. The projects may involve research for senior theses, case studies for use in courses, essays or articles for publication, or similar scholarly endeavors that explore issues in practical ethics.

The deadline for receipt of applications is March 15, 2007.

For further information contact Stephanie Dant, Edmond J. Safra Foundation Center for Ethics, tel: 617.495.1336; email: ethics@harvard.edu; or visit the Center's website, www.ethics.harvard.edu.

The Kissel Grants in Practical Ethics are made possible by a gift from the late Lester Kissel, a graduate of Harvard Law School and longtime benefactor of Harvard's ethics programs and activities.
