Brainscape's GRE Psychology Content Project

Are you a Psychology PhD or Master's student? Are you a tutor for the GRE Psychology Subject Test? Have you written test prep material for the AP Psych exam? If one of these describes you, then join Brainscape (brainscape.com) in its efforts to create an innovative mobile learning tool for all aspiring Psychology professionals!

Brainscape's mission is to help people learn faster. We are a New York-based education startup that has created a web and mobile (iPhone/iPad) learning platform that optimizes study time. Our premium subjects range from SAT test prep to World History to Spanish-language instruction.

We are currently developing an update to our GRE Psychology subject, and as such, we are looking for a Psychology content expert to proofread and revise all of the material with an eye for any changes that must be made in light of the DSM-5. Our ideal candidate will be available during the spring/summer of 2015 to work with our content team for a few hours per week. The work can largely be done remotely and will be paid for at an hourly rate. This is a perfect opportunity for Psychology experts to add to their work experience and strengthen their portfolios by contributing directly to a Psych-related study tool.

Responsibilities:
- Work with the Brainscape team to proofread and revise our GRE Psychology educational content
- Author new content as needed, adhering to the learning sciences, Brainscape's formatting guidelines, and, most importantly, the DSM-5

- Passion for learning, attention to detail, and superior oral and written communication skills

Qualifications That Will Set You Apart:
- Professional experience as a GRE Psychology exam tutor and/or study guide writer
- Experience with educational software creation
- Familiarity with basic educational theory
