THE CENTER FOR PROGRESSIVE PSYCHOTHERAPY (“CPP”) invites applications for the position of “Psychologist & Postdoctoral Fellow” for Fall 2021 & Spring 2022. This position is ideal for an early career psychologist looking to gain experience in a private individual and group practice setting and looking to expand their knowledge of psychodynamic psychotherapy. (Please note: Applications for Summer/Fall 2022 should be submitted after December 1st.)

We are looking to build our team with an individual who is:

- A hardworking professional able to work well independently and offer support and mentorship to colleagues;
- An empathic and competent clinician comfortable working with diverse patients;
- Seeking to deepen their understanding of Psychodynamic theory and technique;
- Wanting to build a private caseload of patients in a group practice setting;
- Seeking mentorship and training in private practice development from a seasoned psychologist and clinician mentor

The Center for Progressive Psychotherapy is an established practice in Manhattan dedicated to providing high quality, contemporary psychodynamic psychotherapy to individual adult patients and couples. We treat a full range of emotional and behavioral symptoms, personality disorders, and dual diagnosis amongst an adult population. As of 2021, we have four full-time postdoctoral fellows. During COVID-19 we are offering both staff and patients the option of doing therapy via telehealth as well as coming into the office on a case-by-case basis towards securing the health and safety of all parties. We are located at 37 West 20th Street in Chelsea/Flatiron.

Dr. Randy Nolte, Psy.D. is a licensed Clinical Psychologist and Founder and Clinical Director of The Center for Progressive Psychotherapy. Dr. Nolte has graduate degrees from New York University and The George Washington University as well as over 12-years of clinical experience with patients. Dr. Nolte created CPP with the following mission:

- Provide patients with specialized, high-quality treatment that is grounded in psychodynamic theory and technique,
- Provide greater access to individual patients and couples,
- Provide psychotherapy to ALL patients regardless of gender identity, sexual orientation, race, ethnicity, religion, and disability,
- Create a space for patients that is safe, accepting, and free of judgment,

- To practice ethically,
- Educate, mentor, and supervise clinicians towards realizing their professional goals and objectives,
- Create a space for clinicians that is supportive, safe, accepting, and encouraging,
- And, finally, to foster connection and healing!

Requirements:

- Ph.D or Psy.D. in Counseling or Clinical Psychology, and completion of an APA-accredited internship
- Must be a NYS licensed psychologist or NYS Psychologist Limited Permit eligible (please note that eligibility for a NYS Limited Permit requires the completion and defense of one's dissertation)
- Limited permit holders will hold the title of "Psychologist & Postdoctoral Fellow"
- This is a two-year contract
- 35-hour work week including an average caseload of 20-25 patients
- Applicants must be comfortable working with diverse presentations, multicultural issues, and LGBTQ+ concerns

Compensation & Benefits:

- Salary: $55,000 year 1/$70,000 year 2

*This is intentionally NOT a fee for service position; that arrangement does not reflect our organizational commitment to providing consistent financial, educational, and staff resources to this position.

- Also includes a bonus incentive structure
- This position includes 10 days paid time off, 5 paid holidays, flexible scheduling, and our offices are closed December 24-January 1st each year
- This position is consciously designed as a 35 hour/week schedule to encourage work/life balance for our staff as well as other personal and professional pursuits
- This position does not currently include health insurance
- Malpractice insurance is provided by CPP
- Individual supervision and group consultation is provided

By the end of this two years, applicants can expect to:

- have a full caseload of patients,
- have developed a reliable referral source,
- have a deeper understanding of psychodynamic theory and technique as applied to a diverse patient population,
- know how to run their own private or group practice including marketing and advertising, working with insurance companies, supervising, and billing and accounting,
- have a greater sense of self-confidence and competency as a mental health professional.

- There may also be opportunities for growth within The Center for Progressive Psychotherapy after the completion of the contract.

Applicant Instructions: Please send 1) a cover letter specifying your interest in the “Postdoctoral Fellow” position and describing your clinical experiences, 2) a C.V. or resume, and 3) two letters of reference regarding your clinical and professional skills to Dr. Randy Nolte at drrandynolte@cpp-nyc.com. Interviews will be conducted on a rolling basis and an offer will be made when the right applicant is found.
