The Centre for Experimental Social Sciences branch in India is looking for motivated lab experimenters currently enrolled in PhD programs in leading universities to work with us as visiting Pre-Doctoral Fellows.

CESS Nuffield - FLAME University pre-doc fellowships provide funding that can be used for travel to India and for subject payments to conduct lab experiments with two different subject pools:

- College students in Pune (English or Hindi speakers)
- The CESS online subject pool (covers Chile, India, UK)

Most Fellows are also given on-campus accommodation for short visits to Pune plus RA support. To apply, please send a current CV, two-page summary of the experiment that you would like to conduct in India, and the name and contact details of an advisor who would recommend you to cess@flame.edu.in.

Kindly ensure that your summary covers the research question, subject demographics and number required, randomized groups/ treatment arms, and what the subjects would do in the experiment. Do let us know what you're still working out, if anything.

The application deadline is 30 June 2019 for visits to India between August 2019 and January 2020. Don't miss out!
