Tom Soderstrom

Director of Chief Technologists, Worldwide Public Sector Amazon Web Services (AWS)

Tom Soderstrom leads a team of experienced technology builders/advisors to public sector executive CTOs and to AWS leaders. They identify and evolve emerging technology trends and patterns and help solve deep, complex technical problems, including problems at large scale. Tom is focused on emerging business and technology trends, such as The Future Space Economy. From 2006-2020, Tom served as the IT Chief Technology and Innovation Officer at NASA's Jet Propulsion Laboratory (JPL) where he helped define, support, and implement innovative Space missions, emerging IT trends, and mentor the next generation of IT and Space explorers.
